

Acorn Class Summer 2 Newsletter 2026

During this half term, we will increase our focus on the children's independence to continue their preparation for moving to reception. The children will continue to increase the time they can access the reception classroom. We are looking forward to introducing the children who are staying to their new friends during the induction sessions. We do encourage you to come to the induction evening as it is beneficial to hear all about how we run Rowan. If you have older children in the school, it is still good to come as things may have changed.

We will try to be outside as much as possible to make the most of the better weather. Please ensure your children have sun cream on and bring a named hat to school. Please name any items that are likely to be taken off so it is easier to return them to the right person.

As always, we are grateful for any donations of consumables. Craft materials such as pom poms, paper, wallpaper, fabric and salt would be very much appreciated. We are always in desperate need of flour, salt and cream of tartar as we make lots of playdough for hygiene reasons.

Our theme for the half term is our world and change. Our creative work will be linked to this as well as following the children's interests. This will also link to places as we talk about where we go on holiday or where they have travelled too. We will be working to deepen the children's understanding of numbers to five. We want them to start to develop a deep understanding of the composition of these numbers.
